

Imann's feedback

Imann's feedback:

I feel happy about the ISEP programme. At first, I was nervous because I did not know how it would feel to have another brother. I was excited too. I am very happy that it all turned out well.

Having a new brother in the family was exciting and fun. I had a lot of fun with Alex. We built lego together and we sing together all the time especially in the car on the way to school.

ISEP was great because we did a lot of activities together. I think it would be better if we did more activities together.

The sad part was that we had to say goodbye to each other. Wish they could stay longer with us especially my new brother Alex.

Nazdriah's feedback

I'm happy with this whole programme. Thanks to PIBG and ISEP committee for all the effort put in. A special thanks to Ee Hiang for being forever available whenever I need her and for being tolerance of my nonsence. Thank you again Ee Hiang.

From the day ISEP meeting was conducted, I've been looking forward to host the Australian child. However, as the date neared, I felt a little nervous because like all the other parents, I didn't know what to expect.

However, there were no regrets hosting my foster son Alex. Thanks to Pn Khoo for pairing him with Imann. They get along so well. He even gets along well with Ariff and Nazrin. They have similar interests and that made life easy for all of us. Alex is a beautiful and wonderful boy. He is well mannered and polite. He never failed to brighten our day. He is so adaptable and definitely has no problem with food. That made my life easy. It is so easy to care for him. He is not demanding at all. To be very honest, it is not hard to love him and we really love him. All of us in the family do and we miss him very much. Azlan and I were very touched when he called us "mum" and "dad". He still does in his email and that means a lot. He even sends his love to my mother in the email and that shows what a thoughtful boy he is.

To conclude, we have no regrets hosting Alex. It has been a wonderful experience for the whole family. More important than the experience, we gained another son who will always have a place in his heart for us as we do for him. Thank you again to all of you for this precious opportunity!
